EDITORIAL

Dear Readers,

We are back after this long and tiring sabbatical and have plenty of things to share. While we discussed on which events to include, we noticed a pattern and that was many of the events had occurred for the first time...and VOILA! We ended up choosing "Primera vez" as the theme for the newsletter which is Spanish for the 'first time'.

The contemporary works of writing are sure to keep you reading this newsletter. From the 1st fourteen fearless females till the bizarre EBOLA handshake including the Nobel Peace Prize Laureates and the victories achieved in the month of October we have covered it all.

Also a tad bit of knowledge of Gandhi Jayanti and the buzz it created in the premises will keep you intrigued. We also salute the Gandhi and R.K. House for taking charge for the months of October and November respectively. As always, to tickle your funny bone, we have a witticism page too...

In the end, I would just want to write an easy line and draw a smile emoticon.

*wink* "The 1st time is always the most special and memorable"

WHAT WE FEEL

Bahaar Hundal:

One should always give his best in the first kick.

Shashank Shekhar Mishra:

Everything is exotic and sparks the nerves of the mind when done for the first time.

Rajdeep Singh:

It takes courage to be a first timer.

Arjun Singh Negi:

It was really fun working in some editing stuff for the first time.

Ahmed Zia Maroof:

The first time gives a new experience and spirit.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

'10 Pointers' from our New Principal (Extract from our Principal's Address on his Educational Vision)

1. We are charged with preparing our students for life in the world.
2. I believe there none is too young, or too old, to make his voice heard and create change that makes the world a better place.
3. At Templeton Academy International we recognize the critical need for developing 21st century skills.
4. Authentic education addresses the “whole child”, the “whole person”, and does not limit our professional development and curriculum design to workplace readiness.
5. Current national and international issues lead to a need for students to be able to communicate, function and create change personally, socially, economically and politically on local, national and global levels.
6. Emerging technologies and resulting globalization also provide unlimited possibilities for exciting new discoveries and developments for our children and we ensure that they tap these in fullest.
7. We target on 21st century skills through our curriculum, which is interdisciplinary, integrated, and project-based.
8. We believe that when the bell rings at the end of the school day, children do not stop learning. Curiosity bubbles inside the minds of children from the moment they wake in the morning to when they go to bed at night.
9. Our challenge is to encourage, connect, and foster learning throughout a child's day. Hence we help children make sense of all the information and experiences in their lives.
10. We are committed to empower our children with Critical Thinking and Problem Solving, Agility and Adaptability, Entrepreneurialism, Effective Oral and Written Communication and with Curiosity and Imagination.

THE GANDHIAN MONTH

BY: BAHAR HUNDAL

Gandhi Jayanti : 2nd October

Gandhi Jayanti is a national festival celebrated in India to mark the occasion of the birthday of Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi, the "Father of the Nation". Though the title is not officially declared, as the Constitution of India does not permit a father of nation, it is mostly conferred to him. The United Nations General Assembly announced on 15 June 2007 that it adopted a resolution which declared that 2 October will be celebrated as the International Day of Non-Violence.

Gandhi House On Duty for October Month

On the auspicious occasion of Gandhi Jayanti, Gandhi House was put on duty for the entire month. All the Prefects of the House along with the students contributed their bits. The House made sure that the entire campus was neat and clean right from the academy to the hostels.

*"Your beliefs become your thoughts,
Your thoughts become your words,
Your words become your actions,
Your actions become your habits,
Your habits become your values,
Your values become your destiny."*

The entire House followed the belief of the father of the nation and gradually succeeded in achieving the goal of proving themselves.

Swachh Bharat Abhiyan

There is always a first time for everything. And our newsletter with its theme primera vez marks the importance of thing which happened for the first time. And in this effort of appreciating them how can we forget the most important person our Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi. He is the one who encouraged the civilians of India not just to celebrate Gandhi Jayanti by delivering speeches but by actually paying tribute to Mahatma Gandhi by making his dream of SWACHH BHARAT come true.

"I will not let anyone walk through my mind with their dirty feet."

This is what Mahatma Gandhi actually wanted. He being a PM came down to the road to sweep the place and appealed to everyone, particularly political and religious leaders, mayors, sarpanchs and captains of industry to plan and wholeheartedly engage in the task of cleaning our homes, work places, villages, cities and surroundings. He requested their active support and participation in his collective quest to make a Swachh Bharat."

RK HOUSE ON DUTY

BY: SHASHANK SHEKHAR MISHRA

RK House( Radha Krishnan House) was on duty for the entire month of November and was responsible for all the events and activities of the month. The House conducted the Assembly and took charge of discipline and cleanliness of the School Campus, the Hostels as well as the Academy were managed and taken care of by the prefects of the House. To make every morning bright n pleasant, the student contributed their bit in the morning assemblies, wherein the three inspirational stories of Steve Jobs (STAY HUNGRY STAY FOOLISH) were narrated which inspired the entire school. The students gained knowledge of various aspects of life through the speeches in the morning assembly .On the occasion of Children's Day the house successfully managed the event. The House also took the charge of managing the Badminton matches which were held in the month of November.

WE SALUTE YOUR EFFORTS!!!

ROBOTICS LAB Inauguration

BY-RAJDEEP SINGH

The TAI family initiated one of the most fascinating sciences of the world which is robotics. Our school hosted a small demonstration of the robots prepared by the students on 15th of November, 2014. We were joined by our chief guest Mr. Reina Kikuchi, CEO Leaning Systems and Co, Japan. Our technicians who had done the spadework in making those wonderful robots were Apisit, Arjun, Rajdeep, and Rajit and they were guided by their mentor Mr. Uday. Now they are gearing themselves for the Junior Robo-Cup Tournament.

TEMPLETON CLEANLINESS INITIATIVE THROUGH MY EYES

By- Jasdeep Singh (Guest Writer)

Swachh Bharat Abhiyan was announced by Narendra Modi, Prime Minister of India on Indian Independence Day and was launched on Gandhi Jayanti (2nd October, 2014). On this day, Modi addressed the citizens of India in a public gathering held at Rajghat, New Delhi, India and asked everyone to actively participate in the campaign. Our school too laid the first stone after being inspired by the cleanliness venture. We had a small session on "Waste Management" by Meenakshi Ma'am who worked for an organization called "Waste Warriors". She taught us to differentiate biodegradable, non-biodegradable, dry and wet waste. We also learnt how long a plastic or a glass article could take to decompose. She talked of how unhygienic our Earth had become and it will not be as beautiful as it was earlier, which generated concerns in our minds.

On November 15th, we had finally set in motion for our campaign to the local area of Naukuchiatal and the places in vicinity. We began our march at about 12:00 noon from the gates of the school with posters, banners and most importantly with the desire of living in a clean environment. To grace the occasion, our honorable Principal Sir, Administrator Sir, Mr. Reinna Kikushi (CEO at Learning Systems Co Ltd., Japan) and all our senior school teachers also joined which motivated us even more. As we reached Kamaltal, we quickly wore our gloves and got in action. We cleaned the littered area by picking up plastic bottles, wrappers, cans, etc. from the road. Then we conducted a small survey in the area and asked the local shopkeepers how do they dispose the waste generated by them, to which they answered by first collecting it and then burning it, which something people practice everywhere but should always be avoided as it causes pollution. We then asked about the issues which concerned them, regarding proper waste disposal, and they answered they require dustbins, sweepers and a weekly check from the municipality officers. This campaign was really something to be appreciated as it was an effort to make tomorrow a better place to live in.

NOBEL PEACE PRIZE LAUREATES

BY: HARSHITA MEHTA

Living for yourself is leading a jake life but when you begin to live for others, you live a life which is much more than satiety. "Find a purpose to serve, not a lifestyle to live."

The Bravest Girl in The World: Malala Yousafzai

Malala Yousafzai is an activist for female education and the youngest and the first Pakistani Nobel Peace Prize recipient... She is so much like us, a teenage girl, with hopes and dreams of her own, yet so different. Malala Yousafzai was born on July 12, 1997, in Mingora, Pakistan. As a child, she became an advocate for girls' education, which resulted in the Taliban issuing a death threat against her. On October 9, 2012, a gunman shot Malala when she was traveling home from school. She survived, and has continued to speak out on the importance of education. The shooting resulted in a massive outpouring of support for Yousafzai, which continued during her recovery. She gave a speech at the United Nations on her 16th birthday, in 2013. She has also written an autobiography, I Am Malala: The Girl Who Stood Up for Education and Was Shot by the Taliban, which was released in October 2013. She was nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize in 2013. In 2014, she was nominated again and won, becoming the youngest person to receive the Nobel Peace Prize.

From a Nameless Activist To A Nobel Prize Winner : Kailash Satyarthi

Born on 11 January 1954, in Vidisha, Madhya Pradesh, India, Kailash Satyarthi is an Indian children's rights advocate and an activist against child labor. He completed his degree in electrical engineering, a post-graduate degree in high-voltage engineering and then joined a college in Bhopal as a lecturer for a few years. In 1980, he gave up his career and became secretary general for the Bonded Labor Liberation Front; he also founded the Bachpan Bachao Andolan (Save the Childhood Mission) that year. Satyarthi has been the subject of a number of documentaries, television series, talk shows, advocacy and awareness films. His work is recognized through various national and international honours and awards including the Nobel Peace Prize of 2014, which he shared with Malala Yousafzai...

LITERATURE INSPIRES

BY: ABHISHEK SHARMA (PGT, ENGLISH)

Many Hollywood and Bollywood feature films of world fame have been derived from some classical and contemporary literature. Literature has always extended a helping hand to cinema wherever cinema has looked out for some unique story plot... and Cinema has returned the favor by converting that storyline into an unforgettable successful film.

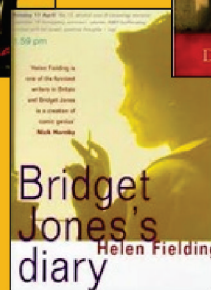

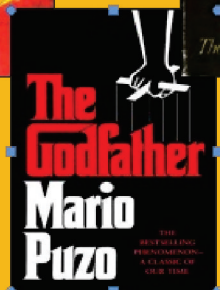

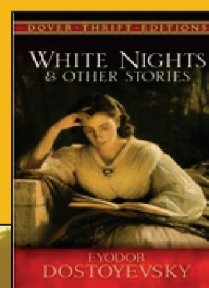

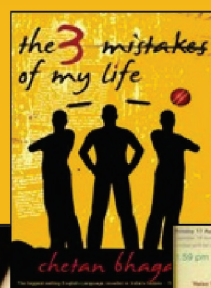

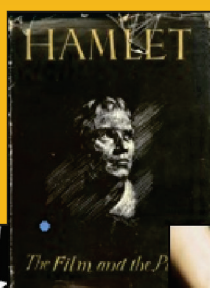

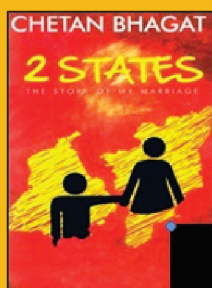

Here is the list of 10 books that contributed significantly to the story lines of the movies.

10 THINGS YOU REALIZE WHEN YOU REACH CLASS XII

BY: HARSHITA MEHTA

- It suddenly hits you, "Damn! Last year to sort my life out."
- Realization dawns upon you. You are an adult now and that you really don't need to care anymore.
- But at the same time, you understand that the carefree days are over.
- You're super excited about college.
- But also super scared you won't get into the college you want.
- You can only imagine the new world, the wonderful experiences and the big opportunities that awaits you after school.
- But you're also afraid of losing your friends and the consistency of school.
- For the first time you understand the real importance of that essay they made you write when you were 10 years old: 'My Ambition in Life'.
- You also realize that time waits for none. You've got to pull up your socks and keep up with it.
- You look forward to moving out and being more independent but you begin to realize how hard it may be without your folks around.

ENGLISH: A FUNNY LANGUAGE

Here are a few sentences which may seem funny but are grammatically flawless...

- All the faith he had had had had no effect on the outcome of his life.
- James and John, who are required by their English teacher to describe a man who, in the past, had suffered from a cold. John writes "The man had a cold" which the teacher marks as being incorrect; while James writes the correct "The man had had a cold." Since James' answer was right, it had had a better effect on the teacher. The sentence can be understood more clearly by adding punctuation and emphasis: James, while John had had "had", had had "had had"; "had had" had had a better effect on the teacher.

New approach needed to save coral reef

Coral reefs are threatened long before species are in danger of extinction. Rather than guessing which species are threatened, the focus should be on averting the loss on ecosystem function, says a study in Current Biology.

Warmth, flowing water on early Mars episodic

There is evidence that water once flowed on the surface of Mars, despite what climate models say. A new study says that warming and water flow were episodic due to volcanic eruptions.

The Halloween Fest

Straddling the line between fall and winter, plenty and paucity, life and death, Halloween is a time of celebration and superstition. It is thought to have originated with the ancient Celtic festival of Samhain, when people would light bonfires and wear costumes to ward off roaming ghosts. Halloween also known as Allhalloween, is a yearly celebration observed in a number of countries on 31 October.

Typical festive Halloween activities include trick-or-treating attending costume parties, decorating, carving pumpkins into jack-o'-lanterns, lighting bonfires, apple bobbing, visiting haunted house attractions, playing pranks, telling scary stories and watching horror films.

(Samantha Power attempts the 'Ebola Handshake' with Dr Peter Graaf, the WHO representative to Liberia)

The EBOLA breakout in the West Africa has turned out to be really devastating, not only medically but socially as well...People have ceased their physical contacts as well as their social interactions which is delinquent...!

Australia recently banned visas for travelers from Liberia, Sierra Leone and Guinea, whilst Muslim pilgrims travelling to Mecca have been banned from entering if they have travelled from a country known to be rife with Ebola.

But the US ambassador to the UN, Samantha Power, dissents from the same and has succeeded in championing a new variation on a handshake which is slightly uncommon right now...

She has since extended the handshake to health officials directly dealing with Ebola, despite the fact that the disease is not thought to be contagious through human contact, only spreading through bodily fluids.

4 things you didn't know about sneezing...

- People say "Bless you" when you sneeze because when you sneeze, your heart stops for a millisecond.
- If you sneeze too hard, you can fracture a rib.
- If you try to suppress a sneeze, you can rupture a blood vessel in your head or neck and die.
- If you keep your eyes open by force when you sneeze, you might pop an eyeball out.

The ALS Ice Bucket Challenge

Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) is the umbrella term used in the US to describe motor neuron diseases, as well as the name for the most common disease in this group, which in UK is called Motor Neurone Disease.

Motor neurone disease (MND) affects a person's ability to move voluntarily. MND stops people eating, walking and talking, for example, but doesn't stop them from thinking or feeling, effectively leaving sufferers 'locked in' to their bodies. Half of people diagnosed with MND will die within the first 14 months of knowing they have it.

The ice bucket challenge started after a baseball player with MND, Pete Frates, volunteered to have it done to him.

People volunteered to have a bucket of ice water tipped over their head. After completing the challenge, they nominated two friends, who then had 24 hours to drench themselves in ice water as they did, or make a donation to charity if they would rather stay dry.

The MND Association reported today that it had raised £4,000 from text donations for the ice bucket challenge since the campaign took off.
